

War, Travel, Travel Writing
 WaR-Net Conference at UEA

Organised by
 Dr Petra Rau (UEA) and Dr Kate McLoughlin (Harris Manchester College, Oxford)

Conference Venue: Julian Study Centre, Chancellors Drive, UEA Campus, Norwich NR4 & TJ

9:00 - 9:30	Registration
9:30: - 11:00	Panel 1: Travel and Eighteenth-century Cultures of War Sarah Goldsmith (York): War, Masculinity and Sociability on the Grand Tour 1700 - 1780          James Wood (UEA): War and the Voyages of discovery to the South Pacific of the 1760s          Neil Ramsay (New South Wales): Orientalism, Travel Writing and the Second Anglo-Maratha War (1775-82)
11:00-11:15	Tea & coffee
11:15 - 12:30	Welcome & Keynote 1 (Tim Youngs, Nottingham Trent)
12: 30 - 13:30	Buffet Lunch
13:30 - 14:30	Keynote 2: Muireann O’Cinneide (National University of Ireland, Galway)
14:40 - 16: 10	Panel 2: Views of the “East” Leighton S. James (Swansea University): 1812 and German views of the East          Carmen Andres (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona), Place and space in Olivia Manning’s Fortunes of War          Toby Manning (Open University), Post-Imperial Threat in John le Carré’s The Honourable Schoolboy
14:40 - 16: 10	Panel 3: Our War from Afar Paul Fox (York): Nile Tourism and the Gordon Relief Expedition          Teja Varma Pusapati (Oxford): Harriet Martineau’s War Correspondence          Marina Mackay (Oxford): Japanese Culture and the Far East Prisoner of War
16:10 - 16:30	tea & coffee
16:30 - 18:00	Panel 4: Aftermath: Nostoi, Displacement, Memory Helen Roche (Lucy Cavendish College, Cambridge), Narrating the Nostoi of the Napolaner          Elaine Ewart (University of Essex), Heligoland: War, displacement and migration          Gary Baines (Rhodes University, South Africa), Travel Writings of South African Veterans
18:15	close of conference
19:30	conference dinner at The Unthank Arms, Newmarket Street, Norwich